Service Leadership

Service leadership requires the capacity to lead both with a focus on service to those benefiting from the end result, and those who do the work in achieving the objectives. Such leadership requires working with a spirit and set of values that emphasize worthwhile contributions. Service leaders see their role as enabling or empowering others to accomplish something worthy.

Six Dimensions of effective Leadership

- Vision and Values
- Direction
- Persuasion
- Support
- Development
- Appreciation

Vision and Values

Good leaders visualize what they would like to have happen, they can understand what is happening now, and they decide what needs to be done to make their vision become a reality.

Direction

Good Leaders help people accomplish tasks necessary to turn the vision into reality. Good Leaders set goals, establish priorities and delegate responsibility as necessary.

Persuasion

Good Leaders persuade others to see, understand and believe in their vision. When others believe as you do, they are more likely to commit themselves to achieving your objective.

Support

Good Leaders encourage creativity. When the team encounters problems, Good leaders provide the guidance necessary to resolve the problems quickly and effectively.

Development

Good Leaders provide opportunities for their team members to fulfill their own needs and goals. Good Leaders challenge team members to learn new skills, but make it clear that they are expected to work hard.
