Toastmasters provides an Adult Education Program, which helps people to be better communicators and leaders. The program is a weekly workshop where members have the opportunity to practice their public speaking, presentation, impromptu speaking, evaluation, and leadership and meeting organization skills. In today's economy successful impromptu skills are vital; these skills prepare an individual for employment interviews.

Toastmasters' membership is about being a part of a supportive group of individuals from the local area who share the common goal of improving skills and increasing self-confidence. The State of Oklahoma currently has over 1500 members in 84 clubs throughout the state.

I am looking for free Public Service Announcements within the State of Oklahoma. Click here to access a PDF script file of(5) PSAs. I also have these PSAs in mp3 format (25.1-32.1 seconds). Our target audience is persons from the ages of 25 to 60. I am looking for on the air, web-streaming or on-line public service announcements.

Example:

Even the best education won't help you get ahead in your career if you can't communicate your ideas effectively. Every day, competition for advancement in the workplace gets tougher — you need an edge. There's a nonprofit organization called Toastmasters that can help. Toastmasters gives you the confidence to express your ideas to anyone. In good times or bad, it helps to have the Toastmasters edge! To find a meeting near you, visit Toastmasters.org.

If your station can accommodate this request in any fashion, please contact me and I will send you the PSAs in your preferred format.

Thank you,

Rhonda
